

LE CACHEMIRIEN

Another meeting point

REFLECTIONS 14

N

A dictionary of Le Cachemirien's beloved words

*no fear no fear no fear no fear no
fear no fear no fear no fear no fea
no fear no fear no fear no fear no
fear no fear no fear no fear no fea
no fear no fear no fear no fear no*

Weave

Noordar

A deep red shawl in pure pashmina, hand spun, hand woven and entirely embroidered by hand in Kashmir.
One of a kind.

Colour

Noir

“There’s something about black. You feel hidden away in it.”

Georgia O’Keeffe

Mythology

Nandi

Nandi is a worshipper of Lord Shiva who had to take the shape of a bull in order to sustain the strength of his rapture; the human body was incapable of it.

Drawing "NIA"

Photography "Nature"
Ayan Meer 2012

Travel "Nagaur"

"The moon appears
for night travellers, be watchful
when the moon is full"
-Jalaluddin Rumi

A music:

“Heart of the wind,
music of the native american flute and drum”
by Robert Tree Cody, Will Clipman

A book:

“Nesting: body dwelling mind ”
by Sarah Robinson

A film:

“Nostalgia for the light”
by Patricio Guzman

Dress

“Nébuleuse”

Wedding dress.
One of a kind.