Mythology

Yudishtira: the questions of the lake

“What is quicker than the wind?” “Thought”

“What can cover the earth?” “Darkness”

“Who are more numerous, the living or the dead?” “The living because the dead are no longer.”

“Give me an example of space.” “My two hands as one.”

“An example of grief.” “Ignorance.”

“A poison.” “Desire.”

“An example of defeat.” “Victory.”

“Which came first, day or night?” “Day, but it was only a day ahead.”

“What is the cause of the world?” “Love.”

Dream

She
Slept just like that
Snuggled like a puppy.
Over her
Summer seasons may pass,
Rainy seasons may pass,
Cold winds of winter may pass.
But
The spring that arrived late
Came and sat at her feet.
She slept like that,
As though someone had bundled up
A long drawn dream and
Forgot to take it along while leaving
